EIGHT PERISH IN FLAMES.

Low Water Pressure and Bursting Hose Handicap Firemen.

Philadelphia, Aug. 3.—Eight persons were burned to death and four injured late yesterday afternoon when fire which started in a factory at 123 North Fourth street swept through six buildings, while firemen, handicapped by low water pressure and bursting hose, fought madly to check the flames.

The fire started in Harry Horner's woman's suit factory on the fourth floor of the five-story building.

Hose lines were soon brought into action but at least four hoses burst in quick succession and it was not until water towers and a score of engines reached the scene that the firemen began to get in effective work.

The six bodies of the unidentified dead were found in a gas fixture manufacturing establishment on the third floor in the rear of 125 North Fourth street, where the flames reached their greatest height. They were burned beyond recognition.

The rapid spread of the flames made the frantic efforts of the firemen seem helpless for a time and the thousands of spectators were provided with thrill after thrill as the firemen, plunging into smoke-filled rooms in search of workers, were forced to swing from windows to ladders to escape the rush of the fire.

LEEDY CLOSES CAMPAIGN

Predicts His Nomination at Virginia Primaries Today.

Luray, Va., Aug. 3.—Col. Robert F. Leedy, closed his campaign for Congress from this district at a large meeting yesterday afternoon. Colonel Leedy spoke for 1 hour and 20 minutes, being introduced by Capt. R. S. Parks, Commonwealth's Attorney of Page county.

Colonial Leedy was severe in his strictures of Congressman Harrison's official record and of the Volstead act, citing how the Prohibition Department had used high-handed methods in enforcing the provisions of the act, and how the officials had come into this county, and while attemping to make arrests, had, it is alleged, help up women at the point of revolvers while they searched their premises for liquor. He denied emphatically that the liquor interests were financing his campaign, mentioning a long list of names of prominent men throughout the district who had made voluntary contributions whereby he was enabled to prosecute his canvass. Throughout, the crowd was in sympathy with him, punctuating his address by frequent and prolonged applause.

This was more pronounced while Colonel Leedy was dealing with Congressman Harrison's record in Congress. Colonel Leedy had a long list of laws that Harrison claimed that he had been instrumental in having passed quoting from the Congressional Record, which showed that many of the laws were passed before Representative Harrison began his Congressional career. He predicted that he would be elected at today's primary.

Fewer Flies in London.

The London Star says: Has the ministry of health unexpectedly won its war on flies? A rare, but not unprecedented sequel this summer has followed the usual mysterious hibernation of flies. Midsummer day has passed, there have been spells of hot weather, but the common house fly, officially described by the South Kensington scientists as "one of man's greatest enemies," is in our midst, not in swarms, but in enormously reduced numbers. A scientific correspondent attributes the remarkable scarcity of flies to the following causes:

Increasing use of petrol.

Abolition of dangerous fly lairs, such as stable yards, now garages.

Shortages of sugar.

Recent heavy rains and thunder storms.

Universal spring cleaning after five years which has destroyel egg laying haunts.

Success of "Swat that fly" campaign.

Lord Montagu, of Beauleiu, attributed a former mysterious reduction of the numbers of flies in London before the war to the perol vapor emitte by motor cars, cycles and buses. Flies cannot stand petrol or the smell of it.

STATE'S AUTHORITY IN LIQUOR CASES

Right of Virginia to Enforce Law to Be Heard

SET FOR NOVEMBER

Court of Appeals to Hear Cases of Two Alexandrians Charged With Violating Prohibition Law.

The Supreme Court of Appeals, upon the petitions of George Miller and Peter Rozick has granted a writ of error to the judgement of the Corporation Court of this city by which they were convicted of a violation of the State Prohibition Law last March.

The questions raised in the petitions in these cases are as to whether since the adoption of the 18th Admendment to the Constitution of the United States and the passage of the Volsted Act, the State law is any longer in force and effect. The petitioners contend that the Act of Congress on the prohibition question has the effect of setting aside all State laws on the subject of prohibition; that the State laws are in opposition to and in conflict with the United States statutes and for that reason are no longer enforceable by the State authorities or by the State Courts.

This important question will be heard at the November term of the Court of Appeals. If the Court of Appeals should uphold these contentions, the result will be that the State will be relieved of the expense of any further enforcemnt of the prohibition law. The petitioners are represented by attorneys Edmund Burke and Carl Budwesky.

ENDS IN SUICIDE

Wife Watches Husband as He Learns To Shoot Himself

Philadelphia, Aug. 3.—Daily, for an entire week, the wife of John A. Tubbs, wealthy retired merchant, watched him sitting under an apple tree on the lawn of his big home in National Park, N. J., aiming a shotgun at his head. He told her he was "only playing." But yesterday she knows he was really practicing suicide.

He put his practice into effect early yesterday. Shortly after daybreak he crept out of bed, and was descending the stairs before his wife awakened. She leaped from bed and followed him, but before she reached the door, a shot sounded from the lawn.

Rushing out, she found her husband dead beneath the same tree where he had so often "rehearsed." He had blown off the top of his head with a shotgun, discharging the weapon with his feet.

RAILWAY INDUSTRY

Fairfax Harrison Says Roads Now Have Chance to Make Constant Reductions.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Completion of "the cycle of government management of the railroad industry" through increases in freight and passenger fares, was said last night by Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway system, to leave the carriers of the country the opportunity for "a constant and progressive reduction of rates accompanied by an enlargement of service."

"The tremendous increase of railroad rates authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission," said President Harrison, in a formal statement, "seems to complete the cycle of government management of the railroad industry. It was necessary to carry the scale of expenses set up by the railroad administration, but it must cause great concern as to its economic consequences.

"It now remains for private management to resume the practice of competitive efficiency and self-reliant initiative, which distinguished the American railroads during so many years, and to justify the preference of the American people for that form of administration by making possible not only the success of individual companies and the prosperity of their loyal employees, but a constant and progressive reduction of rates accompanied by an enlargement of service to the public, such as may be traced through the old-fashioned railroad statistics.

"No one can expect this to be accomplished over-night, considering the practical conditions, but a start can be made at once. Relying on the co-operation and support of the employees the management of the Southern Railway system will make the effort."

$4,000,000 DISCREPANCY

Lieutenant J. D. Nolan, Director of Finances, Mysteriously Disappears From Cehicago.

Chicago, Aug. 3. — Lieutenant James Donald Nolan, director of finances of the central department of the United States Army, has mysteriously disappeared, and auditors who are checking his accounts have found a discrepancy amounting to $4,000,000, it was announced yesterday. According to Federal authorities, the shortage may amount to many thousands of dollars.

Army authorities stated that Lieutenant Nolan deposited in a safe in his office, the combination of which he alone knew, sums ranging from $25,000 to $100,000 during the course of a month's routine. Experts were summoned to open the safe, after the finance officer's disappearance, but, according to the authorities, there was no money in it.

AIRY CEREMONY

Christen Child at Top of Uncompleted Skyscraper.

New Orleans, Aug. 3.—Fourteen stories from the street, on a slender girder of steel, Ole Peterson, structural iron worker, held his 5-month-old son at noon yesterday while the Rev. William Reese, chaplin for the Central Trades and Labor Council here, performed a christening ceremony.

Fifty members of Iron Workers' Union No. 58 were named godfathers. They occupied positions on nearby girders.

The whole thing started when Peterson was unable to decide on godparents for his baby. It was suggested that all members of the union to which he belonged be pressed into service, and that the son of a structural iron worker could appropriately be named on the top girders of the uncompleted building of the Whitney Central National Bank.

The mother gave her consent, and the child formally came into possession of the name of Weed L. Peterson.

LIGHTNING RIPS SHOES OFF

Her 6-year-old daughter Theresa, standing in the front door, was also hit, and sustained severe burns and cuts about the legs.

NEW PASSENGER FARES AUGUST 20

Railroad Executives Expect To Put Schedule Into Effect By Then

PREPARE SCHEDULE

Total Cost of Government Operation Estimated at $1,500,000,000—Pullman Rates Advanced.

The new passenger fares probably will become effective August 20 and the advanced freight rates August 25, according to a program outlined by Alfred P. Thom, general counsel for the Association of Railway Executives.

The increased charges for Pullman travel and the new rates on excess baggage and milk will be put in force simultaneous with the passenger raise.

Railroad rate experts have begun the preparation of blank rates schedules increasing the transportation costs on a percentage basis. These will be presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission five days prior to the proposed effective dates. The rate sheets will be supplemented by printed tariffs containing rates for all territories and on all commodities as soon as the physical task of working out the multitudinous details can be accomplished. Until this work is done local rail officials will compute the new rates and charges for their respective territories on the basis of the existing rates plus the percentage increase authorized by the Commission.

While this method of putting new

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 3.—Following a preliminary session of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor here yesterday the statement was authorized that Samuel Gompers, president, and Frank Morrison, secretary, together with James McConnell head of the metal trades, had been appointed a committee with complete power to formulate a program of nonpartisan political activities for the members of the federation.

"Labor is not going to take a stand with either party in the impending national campaign," declared James Duncan, of Massachusetts, one of the vice presidents. "Labor is going to adopt the only logical position for workingmen to adopt, and that is to support its friends loyally everywhere, and fight its enemies everywhere with might and main."

DEATH OF A MARQUIS

Queensberry's Varied and Picturesque Career Comes to an End in South Africa.

London, Aug. 3.—Percy Sholto Douglass, Ninth Marquis of Queensberry, is dead at Johannesburg. He was born October 13, 1868, succeeding to the title upon the death of his father in 1900. He was formerly midshipman in the British navy and later was lieutenant in the third battalion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers. He was twice married and is survived by two sons and one daughter.

According to a Central News dispatch from Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, dated Sunday, shortly after the death of Douglas, which was ascribed to pheumonia, an affidavit was filed making certain allegations against some persons with whom the Marquis was closely connected while in South Africa. The affidavit is not regarded seriosly by the criminal investigation department, but its existence retards disposal of the body.

The late Marquis had a varied and picturesque career, which carried him over most of the world in search of wealth. During most of his life he was poor in money, although rich in family dignity and honors. At one time or another he was a cowboy and journalist in America, a gold miner in Australia and a plantation foreman in Ceylon. He made money in the Austrialian mines, but eventually lost it on the Stock Exchange here, although several times he amassed considerable riches.

GERMANS WILL PROTECT BORDER

France Informed Action is Necessary to Protect East Prussia

SOVIETS' DEMANDS

Roumania Threatens War on Russia if Bessarabia Is Not Evacuated—Military Experts Optimistic

Paris, Aug. 3.—The German Government will dispatch troops to the Polish frontier if their presence is considered necessary to protect East Prussia against the warfare between the Poles and Russians, the French Government is informed.

A note addressed to the Allies stated that the commissioner at Allenstein in East Prussia, had been given authority to move forces to the border. The note said that the order was issued in default of a reply from the Allies to the previous request of Germany that she be allowed to send troops.

Since the council of ambassadors was not in session, Dr. Goeppert, head of the German delegation in Paris, forwarded the note directly to the French Government.

The military experts here are still inclined to view the situation in Poland optimistically. The reports they received indicated that the Soviet cavalry had not advanced farther than yesterday's advices indicated, being still about 75 miles from Warsaw.

Other developments they regarded with satisfaction were the action taken toward reconstituting the Polish Army, including the replacing of General Menjewsky by General Haller; the activity of the southern army, which is counter-attacking with good results, and the regular arrival of great quantities of munitions from Danzig.

The principal menace to the Poles at present is considered to be at the center of their front, where large concentrations of Soviet troops are reported.

Scant information reached officials regarding the progress of armistice negotiations between the Poles and the Bolsheviki. Dispatches from Basle, quoting soviet sources, purported to give the demands of the Bolsheviki, which amount to absolute surrender.

Poland must submit to military occupation for five years, according to these advices, and the Russians shall take over Poland's coal and salt mines as security for the soviet administration, after which the Poles would be allowed to choose their own form of government.

The Bolshevik spokesmen are said to have demanded farther that Poland renounce claims to Vilna, Minsk, Gradno and Cholm, and surrender all war materials and 7 per cent. of the country's rolling stock.

BITING OFF TOO MUCH.

The present serious situation in which Poland finds itself, with the armies of the Russian Bolshevists dangerously close to Warsaw and already in touch with the German forces in East Prussia, is not the first instance in which a young nation, overrating its own powers and underestimating those of a former hated oppressor, has, in vulgar parlance, bitten off more than it could chew. As a cotemporary says, "it will be recalled that a quarter of a century ago Greece went through a precisely similar experience. Puffed up with vain imaginings of its own military prowess and filled with contempt for its old enemy, the Turk, it jauntily and without adequate pretext, declared war upon the Sick Man of Europe and started its armies toward the redemption of Macedonia.

"Sick as the Turk was, he soon proved that Greece was no match for him. The soldiers of King George were speedily put to rout and Greece would have been ignominiously crushed if the great Powers of Europe, which had given freedom to the Hellenes and made themselves sponsors for the resurrected nation, had not intervened and stayed the Sultan's hand.

"Apparently Poland must pass through the same humiliating experience. Greece learned a useful lesson from its defeat and thereafter left Turkey alone until the formation of the Balkan alliance in 1912 made it safe to renew the attack. So Poland must now accept succor from the Allies and temporarily bend the knee to Trotzky's armies. When it has accumulated greater widsom and strength it may dream again of past glories and of battles fought and won.

WOULD ABOLISH TOBACCO.

A writer in a Baltimore paper, after alleging that crime has greatly diminished in the United States since the country went dry, has the following to say concerning the Indian plant, which he says should be the next article for attack. Among other things he says:

"And now for anti-tobacco. The nearly $1,500,000 acres of very fertile land in the United States that now grow tobacco should be turned to useful production, and thus make it unnecessary to waste labor and material in irrigating deserts and draining swamps. Tobacco is worse than useless. It has no food value. Its nicotine is poisonous to the human system."

This reformer would also abolish the United State Senate, as one House of Congress he thinks, is better than two houses. "The Congress should be elected at large throughout the United States, under proportional representation for a two-calendar-year-term, and should be in session five days of every week, and thus make it unnecessary to have a President or Vice President, and thus put the White House and grounds to public use—a park and library."

THE POPE'S OBSERVATIONS.

Evil conditions confronting the world today are outlined in a circular letter issued to the church by Pope Benedict yesterday. Among other things the pontiff says:

"When the end of the war came, "the minds of men, led estray by militarist passion, were exasperated by the length and bitterness of the conflict, and aggravated by famine on one side and accumulated riches in the hands of a few on the other. The war brought about two other evils—the diminution of conjugal fidelity and the diminution of respect for constituted authority. Licentious habits followed, even among young women, and there arose the fatal doctrine of communism, with the absolute destruction of dutiful relations between nations and between fathers and children. Terrible consequences ensuing have already been experienced. The socity of mankind is founded on the family, ond anything strengthening Christian domestic organization also strengthens human society.

COUNTRY'S CRIME WAVE.

Is the United States passing through a crime wave of unprecedented proportions, and is that crime wave due to a rapidly falling standard of the value of human life; is it a reflected action of the great war, or is it the usual summer madness which psychologists attribute the overheated brains and distorted, twisted mentality?

Whatever the cause, there have been committed in the last two months nine sensational capital crimes—or suicides—which in their phases of brutality, sang froid or sheer mystery, have developed front-page sensations for newspapers the country over.

This, too, is by no means a complete list. It is only a partial summary of the Class 1 murders or suicides. It eliminates the "smaller" homicides of the "usual" sorid type, due to insanity or similar causes.

Five murderers are to be executed at Sing Sing this month.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 2—When a boisterous member of the congregation remarked that "the preacher is a hypocrite" he started a free-for-all revolver battle in the Ten Mile Church on Lost Creek, in Perry county, in the mountains of eastern Kentuck last night. Three Great Bargains 11 rooms and bath on Pitt street, lot about 80x125; elevated position, plenty shade, wood work in perfect condition, needs papering and electric lights, at small expense can be made one of the most attractive homes in the city, or can, inexpensively, be converted into apartments, paying a very handsome return on the investment. The price is ridiculously low. Investigate this.

Six rooms and bath, brick, with corner store, a combination home and business proposition that can't be surpassed; in perfect condition, newly papered, electric lights etc. People who know, say this property would be cheap at $1,000 more than we are asking.

Nothing pays better than a good large rooming house, we have a handsome brick structure, containing about 30 rooms, large yard and plenty shade; has been paying about $150 per week net; could be converted into apartments at little expense; fully furnished and can be purchased at the very low price of $16,000. The prices on the above properties are low under any and all conditions.

Making you Healthy, Wealthy and Wise

No such thing as "Tired Business Woman" if a few rules are followed.
A LEAP TO HEALTH. ACTIVE EXERCISE A SURE STEP TO EVERLASTING YOUTH. THE GILLIAMS SERVICE
MISS ESTELLE BERTINE, ATHLETIC ADVISOR FOR THE NATIONAL Y.W.C.A.
WHATEVER YOUR PET AFFLICTION, EXERCISE WILL CURE IT.
HOUSEWORK IF DONE PROPERLY IS A HEALTHFUL EXERCISE.

"Beauty is as beauty does," the good old adage of our grandmother's day, has been modernized like everything else. Its 1920— model is "beauty is as beauty feels." The frail sofa-ridden heroines of Pride and Prejudice days have lost first place as popular ladies. Today our heroine is the girl or woman who radiates health and energy who can work in an office eight hours and then stride forth full of zest for a game of tennis, who can win an A in mathematics and also a medal for long-distance swimming, who can keep house and "keep fit" at one and the same time.

The popular American girl is the healthy girl, and incidentally the healthy person is always young. From time immemorial and in all lands woman's chief vice or virtue, has been to keep young, no matter what her years. Think what a fortune would fall upon the prophet who could sell the idea—which happens to be the truth in this case—that good health is the safest bet for youthfulness and a youthful age. His or her fame would be made.

It is true, though not generallly realized, that health determines youthfulness, efficiency and fitness and what is more important, that good health is within the reach of everyone who has had a fair start in life. The girl who is anaemic, weary, lacking in initiative and inactive has herself to blame as a rule. This idea of health as a birthright, a prize within every woman's reach a duty as well as the key to success and attractiveness, is being emphasized and spread abroad through the various efforts of the Physical Education secretaries of the National Board of the Y. M. C. A. Their "Social Education Department" started during the war years when women's health was of immediate and obvious importance, has enlarged its program beyond the usual gymnasium and swimming pool to include activities that will lead toward the better living of all kinds of women,—housewives who frequently forget their health in caring for others; busy business women who may be in danger of following in the footsteps of the classic "Tired Business Men"; girls in factories and stores whose idea of recreation is the movie and of exercise, the dance.

Health Centers are being established in large cities where women and girls can have medical and physical examinations free of charge, be card catalogued according to their physical fitness, and be advised individually as to the sort of exercise or habits of living which they should adopt to cure whatever may be keeping them below par. These examinations are not for invalids. They are for the normally healthy person but it is alarming to discover, as it was discovered about the men in the army that very few women are up to normal. Of 414 business women examined in New York City recently, not one measured up to par. These were not over-worked girls from poor families but intelligent, successful women who should be fairly representative of health ideals. And not one was as well as she could be. When once a girl has taken a health examination and learned, for instance, that her way of sitting is causing bad digestion, her shoes and method of walking are giving her flat feet, her spine which she thought perfect showed a slight curvature—when she has seen this proven true about herself, she is more likely to follow up the suggested exercising and athletics than if she had heard a general lecture on good-health.

These health centers in the large cities are overcrowded with applicants. Being centers for constructive methods rather than the curative measures of the physician and being places where well people come to become super-well, they attract much more than any medical clinics dealing with sick people ever could. Factory girls of indifferent health with anaemic, frail appearanee, no energy for good-times no initiative and no attractive attributes at all have been known in six months' time to change completely into vigorous, active, sociable, mentally keen persons, due entirely to the immediate and indirect results of exercise and good habits prescribed for them at the Health Centers. This sounds like a miracle. Perhaps it is, but it has happened and is all down in a filing case if anyone wishes to prove it.

Another step of the Social Education directors is to have all physical Training Departments in Associations throughout the country enlarge themselves into Health Training Centers to work toward the better health of all women in the community rather than the gym girl who is usually already athletically inclined and doesn't need attention. Groups of women meeting in their regular social clubs can take a "correspondence course" in health improvement. Health inventories have been prepared and printed—containing questions as to diet, dress, bathing worry, symptoms and moods that when answered honestly by the individual, shows her where she is failing. Suggestions for corrective and remedical exercises and activities accompany the course and can be followed without difficulty. Illustrated charts of exercises, remedying one thing or another show the most inexperienced person what she can do in the privauy of her own room, in those first precious ten minutes in the morning, toward increasing her strength..

Thinking health and overcoming couraged by the department everywhere. "Two many women expect to be sick half the time," says Miss Bertine, the director of athletics in the Social Education Department. "There must be a change of mind about this. Good health is a question of morality and women should have in their code of honor a personal responsibility for good health."

The whole movement, which is now being co-operated in by the Federation of Women's Clubs, if carried on to its possible finish will mean a new generation of healthy, wealthy and wise girls who will stop at nothing short of the impossible.

the traditional feminine attitude on this subject is a thing especially en-

VIRGINIA NEWS

Early Friday a terrible accident occured about two miles north of Houston at the sawmill plant of Beverly O. Burton. A new negro fireman named Sandy Tucker was making a fire in the engine when the boiler exploded, horribly mangling the body of Mr. Burton and blowing the top part of the negro's head off, both dying instantly.

Two colored men, Jessie Cotman and John Plummer, were both fatally injured in a shooting and cutting scrape over a card game early Sunday morning in Richmond. Cotman was almost instantly killed when Plummer attacked him with a knife, slashing him about the throat and chest. Joe Warren, another colored man, turned on Plummer and riddled him with bullets. Plummer was taken to Virginia Hospital, where he died two hours after the affair.

Practically all the pastors of Protestant churches in Winchester last Sunday discussed politics in a general way in their morning and evening sermons, urging voting members of their congregation to remember the sacredness of the ballot and to seriously consider issues before making their ballots in the Democratic primary on August 3, when the voters will choose between Representative T. W. Harrison, of Winchester, and Colonel R. F. Leedy, of Luray, for the Seventh Congressional District nomination.

According to the testimony of a farmer in Fairfax county, the bees on his place frequently improve the shining hours by deliberately getting themselves plentifully drunk. They drop upon the ground under the apple trees and load up on the fermenting juice oozing from decaying fruit. It will be a startling to all virtuous reformers to learn that such proverbially good workers may occasionally slip from grace without materially affecting their general average of high efficiency.

By reciprocal agreement arranged by the states, cars and trucks in Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia may operate safely in the commonwealth by observing the laws of their own states. This is intended to remove much trouble recently encountered by dealers. Both states and the district refuse to recognize paper license tags, stating either that license has been applied for or that the tag was made by the manufacturer.

William H. White, president of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, is critically ill at St. Elizabeth's hospital in Richmond.

METHODISTS WIN DISPUTED GAME

"Hinkey-Dinks" Claim M. E. Short-Stop Muffed Ball—Should Have Tied Score

The "Hinkey Dinks," otherwise known as Harry Hinken's proteges, went down to ignominious defeat when they stacked up against Claude W. Fletcher's hopefuls, of the Henry K. Field Bible class, of the Southern Methodist church, at the high school grounds and when the smoke of the conflict cleared away the "Shoutin' Methodists" were on top with a lead of 1 run—the final score being 7 to 6.

The "Hinkeys" started out strong, assisted by seven passes dished out to them by Pitcher Black, who started the game for the Methodists and gained a lead of 3 runs, the score being 4 to 1. They immediately got chesty and began a side line conversation to the effect that the Methodists were "has-beens" and "never-was" players and that they could beat them any day in the week.

Manager Fletcher was forced by business to be absent during the first part of the game, but he put in an appearance at the time the game appeared to be on ice for the second-string Dreadnaught players and the first showing of his smiling countenance on the field, turned the tide of the battle and returned the Methodists as winners.

Captain Summers, of the Methodist aggregation, turned in his usual complement of home-runs and three baggers, while another feature of the game was the playing all over the field of Beaton, who occupied the second station for the Methodists. Beaton ran back into middle field and pulled down a hit that would probably have gone for two bases.

The Hinkey Dinks disputed the put-out by the Methodists on the ground that the Methodist short stop fell after he had caught the ball and touched the earth with the ball.

The deciding game will be played at the high school grounds tomorrow evening, at which time the spectators will be able to pick the best of the two teams.

COUNCIL MEATS

Better Meats That Cost Less
No Waste · No Ice Needed
Always Tender
Ready-Cooked To Perfection

Stop Buying Water— at the price of meat

A GOODLY part of the meat you buy is water, and when the meat is cooked much of the water in it—for which you have paid—goes off in steam. The water is just so much more waste for which you pay, just like the uneatable trimmings.

Council Meats in cans are ready-cooked—the water isn't counted in the weight for which you pay. Neither is there any waste, for every bit of a can of Council Meats is good nutritious food.

And it is so easy to prepare Council Meats!

Take Veal Loaf for instance. To prepare it yourself at home means a good bit of work and trouble and time. But when you buy Council Veal Loaf it is all ready-cooked and it only has to be warmed in the can—opened—sliced—served. All the other Council Meats are just as easily served.

TRAIN KILLS EX-GOVERNOR

J. Frank Hanley, of Indiana, And Two Friends Meet Death

Dennison, Ohio, Aug. 3.—J. Frank Hanley, former governor of Indiana, died in a hospital here Sunday from injuries received when an automobile in which he was riding was struck by a tram. Dr. Charles M. Baker and his wife, Mrs. Maude Baker, the other occupants of the machine, are also dead.

Dr. and Mrs. Baker came to Dennison from Kilgore to meet the former governor, who was coming from Indianapolis to deliver a Chautauqua lecture at Kilgore. They left the Dennison station in the automobile and arrived at "death trap" crossing on the Pennsylvania Railroad, six miles from Dennison. The railroad is a double track.

Dr. Baker drove the car on the westbound track while an eastbound train was passing. A westbound train bore down upon them. The three occupants were dragged for more than a quarter of a mile. All were unconscious when picked up.

Mr. Hanley was born in Illinois in 1863.

Good Light Lightens Labor : :

Lighting the kitchen is like lighting a factory. Good lighting quickens production, as the factory man would say. In other words, it makes work go faster without the expenditure of any more energy.

Of all places needing more light and better light the kitchen in most homes is one of the most important. And when you have doubled or trebled the light in your work rooms, try it also in your living rooms.

If you find that doubling or trebling the illumination there mean glaring light, don't cut down the amount of lighting again —shade the light better! Keep the direct rays from striking the eye. Throw some of the light to the ceiling and walls.

In every socket —in every room from cellar to garret—use only
EDISON MAZDA LAMPS

If you will do that, you will find that a great deal more light in the room is decorative, pleasing and restful. It's not the amount of LIGHT that you find irritating in some rooms, but the amount of GLARE.

OUR METER MEN REPORT THAT A NUMBER OF OUR CUSTOMERS ARE USING CARBON LAMPS. WHY NOT BE UP TO DATE? USE MAZDA LAMPS—BETTER LIGHT—LOWER BILLS.
